The New York Tribune's Account of the Surrender of the Virginius.

[illegible] Key West [illegible] Captain Whiting [illegible]

The [illegible] steadily and slowly [illegible] At almost nine [illegible] afterward [illegible] the Spanish vessel came alongside the Virginius, and at a quarter to [illegible] the Stars and Stripes were raised by Spanish hands and again hoisted over the [illegible] which carried [illegible] to death [illegible] At the same moment [illegible] another boat let down from the Spanish vessel which proved to be the Captain's gig. It brought to the [illegible] a young naval officer in full uniform. He was courteously met at the gangway by Capt. Rodgers and he introduced himself as Senor [illegible] Camera, commanding the sloop-of-war Tornado. He was invited into the cabin but being informed by Capt. Rodgers that Capt. Whiting was to receive the surrender he stepped briskly toward the latter and [illegible] American [illegible] lifted their caps [illegible] Camera remarked that he had received a copy of the protocol requiring the surrender of the Virginius and was prepared to execute it either on that or the following day. Capt. Whiting replied that he was instructed to receive the vessel [illegible] but that the hour would be left to the [illegible] of the Spanish commander. It was then arranged that the ceremony should take place at 9 o'clock that day [illegible] morning. Salutes were again ex[illegible] [illegible] In the afternoon Capt. Whiting and Lieut. Mariner [illegible] In the morning punctually as the bells [illegible] struck nine o'clock the American [illegible] At the [illegible] Capt. Whiting and Lieut. Mariner put away from the [illegible] As they ascended the accommodation ladder of the Tornado a single man on deck who proved to be senor de la Camera advanced, made a salute to the officers and remarked that in obedience to the requirements of his Government he had the honor to turn over the steamer Virginius to the American authorities. Capt. Whiting accepted and [illegible] that a receipt would be acceptable, gave one. The Spaniard then stepped over the side [illegible] men and in ten minutes more was upon the deck of his own vessel. The Virginius was in a most filthy condition and was leaking considerably, and the Spanish Captain said that he had kept her pumps going continually since her arrival in order to keep the water down [illegible] all going well when the engines suddenly refused to do duty and it became necessary for the [illegible] to take her in tow. The two vessels went out of the harbor briskly, the Spanish flag being displayed by the forts as they passed. In an hour we were at sea [illegible] under steam the [illegible] ceasing to tow her and the two vessels steamed together toward Tortugas. When the steamers reached Tortugas they found the United States sloop of war Ossipee awaiting their arrival.

A Sensible Demand.

NEW YORK, Dec 18—The Shipping List says there is no reason why freight by rail to or from San Francisco should be more than 14 days in transit. At present it is perhaps 30 days, and from San Francisco we hear of a still longer time being consumed. We think it not unlikely that better time, a lower tariff and more sensible classification of freights will largely increase the shipments by railroad. We want a through line and through cars, quicker time, less handling of freight and more prompt settlement of claims for damages and over charges. Particularly are through cars desirable for teas from San Francisco to obviate the breaking up of invoices. Absence of this facility renders the Suez canal route preferable to many shippers, particularly as of late it has been equally as expeditious as a mode of conveyance.

Complaints against the management of the Pacific roads have been both long and loud and many people fear that present representation belongs to that class of officials of whom it has been said "few die and none resign." Recent investigations have shown that the Government built the Pacific roads with the people's money and in so doing enriched beyond measure a goodly number of individuals, some of whom retired to private life to enjoy the profits of robbery.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Dec 1[illegible]—The Speaker presented a communication from the Secretary of War calling attention to defalcations in the accounts of General O. O. Howard of the Freedmen's Bureau, and at the request of Wood the letter was read.

Wood offered a resolution that the letter and accompanying reports relating to the defalcation be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, with instruction to report a resolution providing for the trial by military court martial of any officers of the army implicated therein.

Dawes moved to amend by striking out the clause relating to instructions.

Wood said he preferred not, in view of the antecedent history of the Freedmen's Bureau and of General Howard's connection therewith. There should be some instructions given.

Dawes [illegible]

After argument between Wood and Dawes the resolution as amended by inserting the word "alleged" before defalcations and striking out the instructions was adopted.

The House then at half past 1 resumed the consideration of the salaries bill, and finally the bill as reported by the majority of the committee was recommitted with the instructions offered by Orth last evening.

In the debate on the salary bill Orth said he had offered his proposition last evening more in the nature of a compromise than anything else, because it was apparent that unless there was a compromise the House would never arrive at a conclusion. He thought that four propositions had been definitely settled by public opinion, which were embodied in his proposition: first that the law of last Congress should be repealed; second that [illegible] shall never again be restored; third that the franking privilege so far as a personal privilege to members of Congress, shall never be restored, whatever [illegible] done in regard to [illegible] the public documents; and fourth that the salary of members of Congress shall be substantially what it was under the old law. He explained in reply to a question that his bill did not provide for covering back the pay into the treasury, but he had thought it better to let the question begin with the passage of the law. He thought this would satisfy the people and [illegible] with the previous action of Congress. He expressed the opinion that the people were as much in favor of [illegible] of the President's salary as that of members, but it could not be touched at the present time. He explained that the proposition did not touch the salaries of Supreme Court Judges, but those of members, the Cabinet [illegible] Orth [illegible] previous question, which was seconded. The [illegible] and the proposition was adopted.

So the bill was recommitted to the special committee with the instructions proposed by Orth, and it was agreed that when the bill shall be reported back it will [illegible] the five minute rule. [illegible] that the [illegible] of that city will resume operations ere long.

[illegible] went up [illegible] Monday. Flour was worth $2 per [illegible] and coal oil $2 per gallon.

The Supreme Court of Washington Territory [illegible] Monday but owing to the absence of [illegible] adjourned until Wednesday.

The [illegible] learns that the mill [illegible] of all the sawmills on the lower river are engaged till spring to fill orders for the several new churches now going into operation next season.

The [illegible] between the city of Kalama and [illegible] and to the appropriation of moneys arising from liquor licenses in Kalama [illegible] before the Territorial Supreme Court at Olympia.

The Town Council of Olympia at their meeting [illegible] Saturday directed the Marshal to notify all stores and [illegible] in town that if they sell liquor in less quantities than one gallon that they must take out a retail liquor dealer's license.

The following officers of Harmony Lodge No. 18, A. F. & A. M., located at Olympia were elected last Saturday: J. P. Ferry, W. M. (re-elected); George Petherick, S. W. (re-elected); Robert Mack, J. W.; J. H. Munson, Secretary (re-elected); J. M. [illegible], Treasurer.

A cold blooded attempt was made to assassinate a Montana miner who resides near Helena on the 20th ult. His name is Wm. M. Erwin and his would be assassins who have been arrested were James Thompson and [illegible] Everett. They shot at Erwin five times and hit him twice.

Mr. Daniel Clark, Master of the Oregon State Grange of Patrons of Husbandry, has written to Hon. J. [illegible] Smith of Olympia that he will visit the Puget Sound country about the first of January next for the purpose of organizing Granges. He has already received an application to organize one on White river, in King county. Other localities desiring the services of Mr. Clark in his capacity as organizer [illegible] are requested to communicate with him at Salem, Oregon.

The Puget Sound [illegible] says: Apropos of the communication in another column comes the information that after careful analysis [illegible] the coal taken from the Skookum Chuck mines has been passed upon in San Francisco as excellent. Gov. Salomon shipped some twenty tons of it to that port about a month ago and has just received a letter from Col. A. F. Bee, speaking of it as above. It is regarded there as particularly valuable as a family coal. It was found to burn freely, leaving little ash. The same letter states that Congressional action is anticipated at an early day in regard to the authorization of this county to vote bonds.

From the [illegible] we learn that a dead Indian named Jackson was found in the suburbs of Olympia last Monday. At the Coroner's inquest it was shown that the night previous the deceased was in town, that a half-breed Indian named Harry, well known in town as he had been acting as interpreter in the office of the Superintendent of Indian Affairs for years, had gone to him with pretended authority for his arrest, and handcuffed him. Harry then gave some reason for taking his prisoner over to Mud Bay, near an Indian rancherie, and then in cold blood shot him in the head with a Henry rifle, and after his fall twice more with a revolver. He seems to have attempted no secrecy, as there were a number of other Indians, old and young, who saw the killing. The deed was committed about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Harry has been arrested and confined in jail. The cause for the murder seems to have been that Jackson was a [illegible] medicine man or doctor, and that his professional services had been called into requisition to effect a cure of Harry's wife, who was sick and who soon after died. This, according to Indian custom, was a result for which the Doctor was responsible to the friends of the deceased, making him a heavy debtor, from which only blood or blankets would release him. He had no blankets and his life blood paid the penalty.

[illegible] MORNING, DECEMBER 19, 1873.

[illegible] IN HOWARD'S [illegible]

[illegible] charged.

To [illegible] issue published seem to [illegible] Howard does not contem[illegible] defence [illegible] Committee on military [illegible] the fullest investigation [illegible] technical advantages he might [illegible] statute of limitations [illegible] This looks like resting his case on its merits. A person charged [illegible] never afford to go before the world on a defense purely technical, though such a defense may avail him in the courts. It is therefore gratifying [illegible] that General Howard's [illegible] such a plea necessary. We shall wait to see how far the evidence will support the accusation against him now that he appears to be willing to meet the charge on its merits. Thus far at least [illegible] the last telegram to be correct he [illegible] meet the investigation like a [illegible] and he may be still the [illegible] friends have considered him.

MR. H. CASON ON THE STAND.

Mr. H. Cason, whom we alluded to as the member of the late Grand Jury in the State Court who had stated that he used money in electioneering at the recent Congressional election, is out with a card in the Bulletin denying that he did so use money. We had Mr. Cason's word that he did. We are prepared to prove that he so stated. Will he deny it? If it is true that H. Cason did not use money in the manner we stated, then our witness—the said H. Cason—has told an untruth. That was the point, and Mr. H. Cason, in rushing furiously into print and at the same time attempting to shuffle the discussion off to another question, has made his case no better. He has now left himself to choose between two statements made by him, both of which cannot possibly be true, and the former of which, namely that he did use money in electioneering, was made under such circumstances as render it ten to one that it was the truthful statement and the other the false. So Mr. Cason has simply added to his character as a tool of the ring in its disreputable practices, that of a fabricator of falsehood to get out of the troubles the ring has got him into. If this gentleman will accept good advice from such a source we would counsel him henceforth to keep aloof from the dirty jobs of the ring, and not to attempt to cover up his delinquencies by the publication of explanations so thin that a blind man can see through them.

ANOTHER VIRGINIUS PERHAPS.

The steamer Edgar Stewart is just now engaged in preparing for her sixth filibustering expedition in aid of the Cuban insurgents. As our dispatches inform us she has already made five successful trips to the Cuban coast, landing each time a cargo of ammunition, guns and other instruments and material of war. Should the Edgar Stewart proceed on her voyage using the American flag on the high seas as a shield for her illicit business, she would incur the risk of a shot across her bow from some Spanish cruiser. If she were captured, her cargo confiscated and her crew thrown into prison, or punished, perchance there might be another war howl. Notwithstanding the fact that the obligation of our treaty with Spain forbids any interference in her domestic quarrels on the part of our citizens, yet it is held by some that if American citizens do engage in the Cuban quarrel using our flag as a buckler against Spanish bullets they must be protected in their unlawful enterprise because the dignity of citizenship must be properly asserted and affronts to our flag must be resented with powder and ball. Our country, right or wrong! It is a violation of the duties of citizenship to give aid and comfort to the Cuban insurgents, but after it has been done—why then, Cuba must be free. The Spaniard is an infamous tyrant. And it is high time anyhow! And then we're bigger and stronger than Spain!! [illegible] Edgar Stewart may not be captured [illegible] But she should be captured [illegible] on board who are in any way [illegible] with the nature and object of her voyage should be punished [illegible] process of law, but before this is [illegible] possible our authorities should see [illegible] that she take no [illegible] from any United States port.

[illegible] COURT GRAND JURY.

[illegible] Mr. Cason has taken up the fight [illegible] in his letter [illegible] he would have [illegible] called the attention of the indiscreet writer [illegible] to the fact that [illegible] says [illegible] not say he paid [illegible] half-pints and other moneys [illegible] he was a judge of election and that [illegible] the jury [illegible] at all during the [illegible] election.

The gravamen of our charge is that he was out among the voters about election time arranging with them to come in and vote, telling them that there was money for them, and that they could get it, if they would come work and vote, or words to that effect. To be more specific we charge that he [illegible] this statement [illegible] Williams and told him he could have [illegible] which he declined [illegible] the amount [illegible] dollars. Henry R. [illegible] and that they came out and voted and the money either from Cason or some [illegible] with him.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

At last it has transpired what is the wrong that U. S. District Attorney Gibbs is guilty of. The solution is furnished by a member of the ring, and certainly such persons ought to know if anybody does. It is stated that Gibbs has entirely misunderstood the intention and [illegible] of the law under which he is [illegible] The law was passed [illegible] at the time the Kuklux outrages at the South were [illegible] and it was not intended to apply to [illegible] Kuklux. That is probably the true explanation of the matter. If so Gibbs is [illegible] to the question whether [illegible] the Grand Jury had been [illegible] by Democratic Kuklux. So much for [illegible] understanding the situation [illegible]

General Sherman in his report to the Secretary of War gives a recapitulation of the standing army which shows that there are in the service [illegible] enlisted men of cavalry, artillery and infantry and [illegible] non-combatants, the whole aggregating [illegible] or [illegible] less than the limit fixed by law—30,000. He says that in the active regiments the number of men sick and on the necessary detail about the posts will fully equal 25 per cent, so that the actual strength for military service does not exceed 19,000 men. He gives the number of regimental commissioned officers on duty as belonging to the several departments and divisions, as 1,53[illegible] present for duty [illegible] absent on leave or detached 98. In concluding his report, which is very brief, General Sherman says: No part of the army is under my immediate control, and the existing army regulations devolve on the Secretary of War the actual command of the military peace establishment and all responsibility thereof, so that I forbear making any further recommendations or report.

Stolen fruits may be sweet—we will not stop to debate the questionable adage. But while stolen wine or cold rum may not be disagreeable to the palate large doses are not conducive to longevity. The telegraph has told us of those unfortunate Canadians who experimented in this direction, ultimately yielding their lives in the dangerous test. From an Eastern exchange it appears that a party by the name of Flobert, seeing a sleigh standing in the street without a driver, stole therefrom a bottle containing what he supposed to be sherry. He summoned all the inmates of the tenement in which he lived as well as several neighbors to share the liquor with him. Seven died and five others will probably fail to survive. It wasn't sherry—it was wine of colchicum.

It occurs to us that the committee on invitations by whom the lecturers of the present course have been selected, have overlooked an opportunity that may never be presented again. It will be remembered that a few years ago John Hipple was perambulating Oregon under the assumed name of J. H. Mitchell, delivering a lecture on "Henry the Eighth and his Wives." That lecture was delivered so often it became threadbare and would not draw an audience, so of course the committee could not be expected to ask for its repetition at this time; but why have they not requested the same individual to vary the performance a little and treat the public to some remarks on "Hipple the First and his School marms"?

The New York Times says that many years before Tammany became a synonym of corruption, it was the custom of the Aldermen to honor persons of distinction by ordering lamps to be placed in front of their doors and lighted at the public expense. But when the Tammany Society came to be controlled by the leaders of cut-throat and thieving gangs, which in turn controlled the Government of the city, the good old custom was abused so shamelessly that from the merest trifle the annual tax for the maintenance of private lamps grew to be $70,000, and at this figure it at present stands. The Times thinks that this leak may as well be stopped, and to that end it calls on the Board of Aldermen to abolish the expensive luxury free gas.

A Chicago paper gives a statement of hog statistics, from which it appears that the aggregate number of hogs slaughtered this season in Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Louisville, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Peoria and Des Moines, Iowa, to be 1,118,000 against 7[illegible]8,370 for the same time last year. In Chicago the growth of the hog packing business has been something remarkable, the total number packed in that city up to Nov. [illegible] being 481,0[illegible], a gain [illegible] 212,8[illegible] last year.

At a meeting of the Cuban Junta in New York city, Nov. 30th, Senor Bombalier produced a copy of La Discusion, a journal published in Madrid, which contained the official order of President Castelar relating to the Virginius case as sent to Burriel. It calls upon him to desist from further execution of the Virginius party, and expresses at the same time his opinion that the brutal outrages would result in Spain losing the beautiful island of Cuba.

[illegible] This unfortunate [illegible] redited with [illegible] pleasant position to accupy [illegible] brought out the truth of that [illegible] Bailey, the [illegible] who speaks from the [illegible] miserable experience [illegible] it on his brother [illegible] apparent and will [illegible] with the experience of every [illegible] and that we commit to bear [illegible] He says Once upon a time a local [illegible] that he was dead [illegible] He approached the gate [illegible] and knocked for admittance [illegible] the only [illegible] appearing [illegible] the gate At sight of him the owner [illegible] Why did you not notice [illegible] I gave [illegible] At this horrid and [illegible] unexpected interrogation the poor [illegible] turned in the direction of the voice [illegible] its owner when another voice shrieked Where's the puge you were going to write [illegible] And close upon this was the awful demand Why did you write about old Peddles fence and never say a word about my new gate What ever [illegible] was going to frame to this appeal was [illegible] off by the astonishing inquiry What did you spell my name wrong in the [illegible] The miserable man turned [illegible] when he was noted the spot by this terrible demand Why did you put my [illegible] among the deaths He was on the [illegible] the [illegible] when a shrill [illegible] cried What made you put in [illegible] and spoil the sale of my horse And this was followed by the voice of a female hysterically proclaiming This is the brute that botched my poetry and made me ridiculous Whereupon hundreds of voices screamed Where's my article? Give me back my article And in the midst of the horrid din the poor wretch awoke perspiring at every pore and screaming for help The next day he resigned, and we had to hunt up another local editor

DELAYED BY ICE—Owing to unavoidable detention the steamer Rescue did not arrive here on Wednesday evening until after 9 o'clock She was delayed two hours in going [illegible] Kalama and two hours on the return [illegible] delay was occasioned by the ob[illegible] the channel of the slough by [illegible] Huge cakes of ice be[illegible] hed from the shores float out in the stream When the tide ebbs the masses move down some distance and when it flows the ice [illegible] again This tidal motion keeps the [illegible] passing to and fro and prevents them from being swept down the river and away to the sea board Through [illegible] between these cakes of ice the [illegible] impelled to pick her way Sometimes the boat is delayed for several hours, in working through the tortuous channel

MAIL CARRIERS.—Messrs August L Burgy and Frank W Callahan commenced carrying the mails between Vancouver and Portland on Thursday the 11th inst These parties have carried the mail to and fro regularly every day since that date With the exception of one day when a horse was used the mails have been borne on foot They have crossed the Columbia on the ice each time opposite Vancouver The ice was reported by them yesterday as being weak and the indications were that it would soon break up In all probability the trip yesterday (13th) was the last [illegible] will make on foot

MORE IMPROVEMENTS.—A few days ago a contract was let for the building of a brick hotel on the corner of Yamhill and Front streets It will be one hundred feet on Front street by sixty on Yamhill on the river side and on the site occupied by the Russ House previous to the [illegible] except that this building now takes in the corner Mr Hunsaker of Oregon City is the proprietor and Thos Richardson of [illegible] the contractor who is also engaged in laying a stone foundation for a building of like dimensions on the block south of the above

HONORABLY ACQUITTED.—A few days ago Mr Lucien Menu was arrested on complaint of Mr C P Dubois, the furrier The defendant was accused of having purloined a number of pairs of gloves from the establishment of the complainant The examination of the case was held in Justice Ryan's court on Wednesday A jury was demanded by the defendant After the testimony was heard the case was submitted to the jury They retired and after a few minutes deliberation acquitted the defendant who was at once released from custody

EN ROUTE FOR ASTORIA.—On Wednesday forenoon the steamer Dixie Thompson left here en route for Astoria At 3 o'clock the same day it was learned by telegraph that she passed Kalama bound down Below that point nothing could be learned of her progress The intention was to reach Astoria if possible Several experienced river men were of the opinion that the attempt would prove futile but as nothing has been heard of the boat it is fair to presume she has arrived safely at Astoria

RAPIDLY IMPROVING.—We are pleased to announce that Frankie Northrup who met the misfortune to break his leg while coasting [illegible] sled [illegible] week is getting along finely with the fractured limb although suffering severely at times He will soon be out again Mr Mark Ward, whose left foot was severely crushed by a car wheel at Albany about a month since has so far recovered that he can walk about with the aid of a crutch and cane

CONDITION OF MR WOTCKA.—This gentleman who in a fit of mental despondency made an unsuccessful attempt to destroy his life with a pistol on Wednesday is still alive and doing as well as could be expected He is quite rational at present and appears very deeply humiliated by the insane effort to terminate his existence His injuries are of a very serious character but with the superior medical attendance it is hoped he may survive

PROTRACTED MEETING.—A protracted meeting was held all of last week in the Hall street M E Church of this city Rev [illegible] pastor On Saturday and Sunday [illegible] quarterly meeting services were held there by Rev W Roberts presiding elder There was considerable interest manifested and [illegible]

PORTLAND MUTUAL SAVING FUND AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

We learn that an organization of the above title is held in contemplation by a number of our citizens The subject of organizing such an Association is [illegible] and the project is meeting with much encouragement among the laboring classes [illegible] mechanics and artisans [illegible] If we correctly understand the true object and purposes of the Association its organization and operation in this community would be of great advantage to that class of our citizens whose interest it claims to guard protect and promote

This Association has for its object the accumulation by monthly installments of a fund and the loaning of it upon proper and sufficient security to the subscribers to the fund in such a manner as to yield the greatest profit to the Association

The profit thus earned after deducting the expenses incident to the transaction of the business of the Association will be distributed equitably to the accounts of the subscribers to the fund in proportion to the amount invested by each subscriber

For the purpose of a systematic accumulation of the fund, stock in the Association will be issued to subscribers This stock will have a nominal par value of $100 per share and will be payable in installments of $1 per share per month until the amount paid in together with the earnings of the Association shall cause each share to have the value of $100

Stated meetings of the shareholders of the Association will be held monthly at which time the monthly installment will become due and payable. At the same meeting the money received shall be loaned at an interest of one per cent per month in sums of $100 or a multiple of $100 to such of the stockholders who will pay the interest on the loan for the longest period of time in advance

As security for all loans, the association will require a mortgage on real estate or other approved security and in addition for every hundred dollars of loan a transfer to the association of one share of the stock of the association to be held as additional collateral security

As a borrower must be a subscriber for one share of the stock of the association for every hundred dollars of the loan he may have received, he will when the value of the stock has reached the full par value of one hundred dollars per share be interested in the stock of the association to the full amount of the loan When therefore this par value is reached the stock of the association which is held as collateral security for the repayment of the loan will be applied to the liquidation of the indebtedness due by the borrower

It therefore follows, and is a part of the plan of the association that a borrower may retain a loan made in accordance with the above provisions until the maturity of the stock held by him provided he pays promptly the monthly dues on the stock and the monthly interest of one per cent on the loan

A borrower may repay a loan at any time and in that case if he has paid interest in advance for a period beyond the time he may retain the loan the excess of interest shall be refunded

The unpledged stock of the association will at all times be redeemable by the association to the extent of the funds on hand after thirty days notice being given, the stockholder receiving therefor the full equitable value thereof and the cash receipts will be first applied to the redemption of the stock of withdrawing stockholders

When the stock shall have attained the full value of one hundred dollars per share the association shall refund to non borrowing stockholders the full par value of the stock held by them The stock will be issued in series as the association may from time to time direct The payments of the first monthly installments of one dollar per share on each consecutive series to commence at the later period than that of the next preceding series

The association as the name implies is strictly mutual and co operative the subscribers as stockholders controlling the affairs of the association through a Board of Directors of their own election and sharing mutually all the profits that may accrue

FAIRS AND FESTIVALS

The Ladies Fair at the Armory Hall for the benefit of St Vincent De Paul Society progresses finely Last evening at 10 30 the fourth night of the fair closed During the evening a number of articles were raffled with the following result watch case P Clancy, wax flowers John Irwin China tea set J A Carroll miniature sloop St Vincent de Paul Ld Tracy wine set Mr Nichols dressing gown Mrs C McGinn child's dress T Rodgers cigar holder S J McCormick cigar stand Mrs J Wilson the gold headed cane netted $[illegible] the result of earnest work by Mrs Ward Amid laughter a doll's crib fell to the lot of Father Vertag At several tables some additions were made among other things a cake presented by Chas McGinn Total affairs were in excellent condition—due to the vigilance of those in charge The receipts on the fire trumpet was $71 25 It is a difficult matter to ascertain the result each evening, though it was currently reported that No 3 is considerably ahead and No 1 is following closely—the third competitor No [illegible] being somewhat behind The friends of each company are taking the matter in hand [illegible] which will probably alter the situation The lunch table was liberally patronized during the night The door receipts were larger last evening—the amount taken in being $42 [illegible] At the close the total receipts [illegible] The fair will continue [illegible] evening, and on Saturday from 10 A M to [illegible] P M

SENTENCE OF JOHN RYAN.

U S District Court District of Oregon—Thursday Dec 18 1873

U S vs John Ryan—sentence upon plea of guilty to charge of voting illegally

DEADY J

John Ryan you have been indicted by the Grand Jury of this District [illegible] voting illegally at South Portland precinct [illegible] the election [illegible] for representative in Congress [illegible] and [illegible] the North [illegible] precinct

[illegible] the indictments you have pleaded guilty [illegible] both as regards yourself and the [illegible] Having lately expressed my [illegible] a full [illegible]

The act of Congress fixing the punishment of this [illegible] makes it the duty of the Court [illegible] aggravation [illegible]

[illegible] that you committed [illegible] It appears evident from the testimony that there was a scheme of combination [illegible] persons [illegible] to commit this crime for which you stand here for punishment to day It appears from your statement [illegible] vote for the sum of [illegible] and that you were paid by receiving a ticket or piece of paper with the figure 6 or [illegible] on it, with instructions to go to a back room in the Aster House and present it for payment which you did [illegible] the paymaster of the conspiracy It [illegible] appear that you were hired in the same way to give the first vote you gave that day

The maximum punishment prescribed by this act—three years imprisonment and $500 fine was evidently intended for the wicked men who planned and carried into execution this corrupt conspiracy by which you were induced to violate the law of your country and pollute the fountain of justice with an illegal and mercenary vote

In consideration of the premises and the fact that you have confessed your fault in the plea of guilty it is considered that you be imprisoned for the term of one year and that this judgment be executed in the penitentiary of Oregon and that you pay the cost

AN AFFECTING TALE.

DAN AS A HODSMAN AND DAN AS A CONTRACTOR.

An affecting tale was told this morning in the market-house, which having been overheard by one of our reporters, affected him to tears and disabled him for the day. A couple of stout women with large baskets on their arms met, when the following conversation took place between them:

"Good morning, Mistress Callahan."

"The same to yourself, Mistress Moriarty, and how is your family these hard times?"

"Purty enough, Mistress Callahan. Me poor man is out o' work, and we has the devil's own time thrying to get along a' thall a' thall; and how's yerselves?"

"Och, we does well enough; too well, be dade, an' that's what's making me thrubble. It's too much prosperity that's ruinin' the family, an' oi'll tell you how it is. When Dan was a poor man droiving a cart, hauling mud and sthones on the new sthreets, we was well enough. He went to work daily airly in the mornin' and kem home regular at night to his supper and his pipe, and thin we would sit 'fore the foire an' enjoy ourselves for awhile, an' thin go to bed as continted a couple as iver ye saw-a, and schnore as sound and sleep as swately as childer. But Dan got to savin' up his money to me destruction. Having a little money of our own he 'got in' wid the sthreet committee and the improvement commisshioners, as he called ut, and may the divil git on wid them next, say oi, an' nothin' would do him but he musht have a contract bad cess to ut and he got it to mi sorrow an divil a bate good has he done since wid his getten ups and his layin' downs at all hours of the day and night, when he ought to be livin' loike a dacent man.

"He niver leaves the bed these blessed days tell dinner toime or mebbe it may be till supper-time, and thin wants his cocktale, (the loikes o' him talking uv 'cocktales' is what makes me sick,) and his tay in bed wid him and as soon as he's up he's off.

"'Are you not going to sthay in the house the noight Dan?' ses Oi.

"'Oi musht away to a meetin' of the commissioners the noight, Biddy,' sez he,

"'Oh the devil floi away wid the blashted commissioners' sez oi, 'an' it wud be far better fur ye to be home wid yer family loike a dacent man that ye woz oucht,' sez oi. And wid that he bids me howld me tongue, bein' as he's afther a new contract, an' away he goes, an' I see no more uv him till one or two in the mornin' whin he flings himself into the bed loike a foul hog sweathing wid the licker that's in him an' he thinks like an ould spirifoon an' puffs himself up and crushes me again the wall, and shouts that's his name is 'Champane Charles,' and the ould fool goes on loike a wild Injun, and oi have no pace at all wid him and his blashted Commissioners may the divil floi away wid them."

Wiping her eyes with the corner of her shawl she rushed away from her friend to find relief in cheapening vegetables and corn beef.—Pittsburgh Leader.

THE FIG LEAVE COSTUME.

The primitive leaf costume in vogue in the days of Adam and Eve, is said to be perpetuated by a small Hindoo tribe inhabiting a remote nook of the province of Orissa. When engaged with Mr. T. Ravenshaw, the Commissioner of Orissa, in settling a boundary dispute in 1866, Col. Dalton had his first opportunity of studying a party of Juangs, consisting of a matron, half a dozen comely maidens, and as many men. The men had already abandoned the use of leaves for the smallest possible quantity of cotton cloth, but the women clung to their foliage under the belief that when the river goddess, Byturnee, first leaped from the Gonasika rock, she was so angry at the spectacle of a party of Juangs, dancing naked, that she condemned them to adopt leaves as their dress forever, or die. The first torchlight dance of this party was shy. Next day, says Colonel Dalton, they came to my tent at noon, and while I conversed with the males on their customs, language and religion, the girls sat nestled together in a corner, for a long time silent and motionless as statues; but after an hour or two had elapsed the crouching nymphs showed signs of life and symptoms of uneasiness, and, more attentively regarding them, I found that great tears were dropping from their downcast eyes like dew-drops on green leaves. On my tenderly seeking the cause of their distress, I was told that the leaves were becoming dry, stiff and uncomfortable, and if they were not allowed to go into the woods for a change the consequences would be serious, and they certainly could not dance. It was a bright, dry day, and the crisp rustling as they rose to depart confirmed the statement. When they returned, arrayed in fresh leaves, we induced them to give us not only the solemn measure of the evening before, but to perform a variety of sportive dances, some quite dramatic in effect, and it was altogether a most interesting "ballet." They concluded with a vulture dance, a highly dramatic finale. One of the men was made to lie on the ground and represent a dead body. The girls, in approaching it, imitated the hopping, sideling advance of the bird of prey, and using their hands for beaks, nipped and pinched the pseudo corpse in a manner that made him occasionally forget his character and yell with pain.

"OWL RUSSELL."

HOW A POLITICIAN GAINED A SOUBRIQUET.

Not long ago died Col. Russell known in the southwest as "Owl Russell," who was once Henry Clay's private secretary. He was a man of intense egotism, whose chief object in life was to be admired and notorious. Years and years ago, while in the Missouri legislature, he got the soubriquet which clung to him all the rest of his life, and actually carried him out of his political career. It was during a violent debate in which he had shown an absurd propensity, that one of his political comrades rose and quietly told a little story. He said that one night Russell, while traveling through the woods, lost his way, and being a stranger in that part of the country, became rather nervous. While in this sorry plight he suddenly heard a voice not far away, calling out, "Who, who, who are you?" The answer was loud and prompt: "I am Colonel William H. Russell, for many years a prominent member of the Kentucky Legislature, was school commissioner for the southern district of Kentucky, am now the representative of Calloway county in the Missouri legislature am spoken of as the whig candidate for next congress, and I am lost. Who are you? Of course the question was repeated, and the answer was again returned with all its linked dignity until the audience screamed with laughter and greeted poor Russell whenever he dared to rise with "Who, who, who are you?" And so he got his name of "Owl Russell."

AN UNEVEN TENOR.—An Italian journal has a curious story to the effect that towards the year 1847 a Neapolitan monastery possessed in one of the monks so charming a tenor voice that they were wont to compare it to that of Fraschini, then in all the freshness of youth. Father Abraham, as this singer was called, had attracted the attention of Ferdinand II., who would often request him to go and sing in the Chapel Royal, and in a short time Father Abraham had quite a reputation among the dilettanti of Naples as the mysterious tenor who charmed pious ears by singing like a seraph. One day, intoxicated with success, and thinking only of theatrical bays, the monk threw away his frock and fled to London, where he became singer and Protestant. Under the name of Arturo Gentile, which he has rendered famous (?) he traversed America, gaining glory and fortune, laurels and dollars. In some unexplained way, however—perhaps through speculation—good luck suddenly deserted him, and he found himself poor. He was married by this time, and could no longer keep up a costly household. Added to the ills of wife and poverty, he also found a new misfortune; his marvellous voice disappeared with his goods; there was no more chance for him in opera. He took to management, but became more involved; fortune had finally turned her back, creditors pursued, and at last—only a month ago, says our authority—he sought refuge in the very convent where he had passed his early years. Abjuring his heresies and and faults, the worried ex-tenor reentered the asylum he had quitted, and the Superior received him like a prodigal son or a strayed sheep returned to the fold. Arturo Gentile is dead, and Father Abraham has revived in his stead.

THE BUSTEED CASE.—A Montgomery, Ala., dispatch of Dec. 12, says: The jury in the case of Lewis E. Parsons against Richard Busteed, Judge of the United States District Court, for false imprisonment, gave the plaintiff $10,000.

The general [illegible] of the [illegible] of some [illegible] which have [illegible] since the October panic. No [illegible] to values is likely [illegible] In the [illegible] monetary circles are quiet, the usual [illegible] maintained and [illegible] with [illegible] the holidays, is now likely to pass away, and next will [illegible] to open with a very encouraging degree of activity for the late period in the season, [illegible] which promises to be no more brisk than in many former years.

The annual report of the Comptroller of the Treasury contains the [illegible] of interest on deposits and certification of checks.

"In my last annual report I referred briefly to the evils resulting from the payment of interest upon deposits [illegible] subject. The difficulty [illegible] that the proposed legislation by Congress [illegible] national banks [illegible] State banks and savings banks [illegible] the authority of the different States, in direct competition with the national banks in securing accounts of correspondents and dealers. The national banks will be desirous of retaining their business, and the more unscrupulous would not hesitate to evade the law by offering to make collections throughout the country free of charge, to buy and sell stocks without commission, and to rediscount paper at low rates. The proposed action of the Clearing House in the city of New York, if adopted by the Clearing Houses of the principal cities, would do more to prevent the payment of interest on deposits than any Congressional enactment. But the evils resulting from the payment of interest upon deposits are by no means confined to city banks. It may be safely said that this system, which prevails in almost every city and village of the Union, has done more than any other to demoralize the business of banking. State banks, private bankers, and associations under the guise of savings banks, everywhere offer rates of interest upon deposits which cannot safely be paid by those engaged in legitimate business. The national banks, desirous of retaining the business of their dealers, also make similar offers, and the result is not only an increase of the rates of interest paid by business men, but, as a consequence, investments in unsecured loans, bringing ultimate loss, both upon the shareholders of the banks and depositors. The kind of legislation needed is that which shall apply to all banks and bankers alike, whether organized under the national currency act or otherwise. A law that will prohibit the payment of interest on deposits by the national banks, will have little effect unless followed by similar legislation under the authority of the different States, and there is little hope that such legislation can be obtained. The national currency act, which was passed during the war, provided for a tax of one-half of one per cent. upon all deposits, and subsequent internal revenue legislation extended this tax to all deposits made with State banks and individual banks. This was essentially a war tax, and should, in my judgment, be repealed with other similar internal revenue taxations, and I recommend, if legislation is proposed on this subject, that the law be so amended as to repeal this tax so far as it applies to demand deposits, and that an increase in the rate of taxation be imposed uniformly upon all deposits which, directly or indirectly, are placed with banks or bankers with the offer or expectation of receiving interest. Such legislation, if rigidly enforced, will have the effect not only to reduce the rate of interest throughout the country, but will at the same time prevent the illegitimate organization of savings banks, the organization of which should be allowed upon condition that the savings of the people shall be carefully and prudently invested, and the interest arising therefrom, after deducting reasonable expenses, distributed from time to time to the depositors, and to no other person whatsoever.

"The act of March 3, 1869, authorizes the appointment of a receiver, if any officer, clerk or agent of any national bank shall certify any check drawn upon said bank, unless the person or company drawing said check shall have on deposit in said bank, at the time said check is presented, an amount of money equal to the amount specified in such check. Receivers have been appointed for the National Bank of the Commonwealth of New York, and the New Orleans Banking Association, during the past year, for violations of this act, and it is the intention of the Comptroller hereafter to rigidly enforce this act, whenever he is satisfied of such violation."

The Comptroller of the Currency repeats the recommendation in last year's report for the repeal of section 6 of the act of July, 1870, which provided that after the whole fifty-four million dollars of circulation shall have been distributed, twenty-five millions additional shall be withdrawn from the banking associations and organizations in States having an excess, and distributed among States having less than their proportion. Under this section that amount would be withdrawn from New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island, and the Comptroller also recommends the authorization of twenty-five millions more currency to be distributed among the States which are deficient, namely, those of the South and West. He is of opinion that it would require from three to five years to distribute this additional amount.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The river not being yet open sufficiently to insure the speedy movement of vessels, exporters are not urging the market, and hence we note no special activity, though competition among buyers to secure lots stored along the upper river is more apparent. The current rate at which bids are now said to be made is $2 per cental, holders, however, generally demanding an advance of 5 cents for round lots.

FLOUR—In consequence of the check in shipments stocks have somewhat accumulated, but prices seem only slightly affected, trade being limited to the furnishing of local demand, is dull. Jobbing rates for standard brands $6 25@6 50 ₽ bbl, outside and choice country brands $5 75@6, common $5, fine $4, superfine $4 50.

OATS—The surplus in the State at the beginning of the season was variously estimated at 1,250,000 to 2,000,000 bushels, of which not more than one third has yet been marketed. Receipts at this point continue light, and, with a brisk demand, prices are quite firm at 45@48c ₽ bushel in sacks.

BARLEY—Beyond the wants of local brewers and a light demand for feed, there is apparently but little call in our market. Jobbers are taking receipts, which are light, at $1 37½@1 12½ ₽ hundred.

FEED—While the home trade evinces some activity, the lack of shipping facilities has been the cause of an accumulation of supplies, which slightly tend to weaken prices. We are furnished quotations for bran, $[illegible] ₽ ton in sacks; chopped feed and middlings, $25@25; shorts, $22 50@25.

HAY—The receipts during the past few days have been small, and barely adequate to the local demand, with an advance of 50c@$1 ₽ ton on our last quotations.

POTATOES—The supply is hardly so abundant, but no serious lack is yet experienced. To-day some choice varieties have sold at 25 cents ₽ bushel, which is a little advance on the general market.

APPLES—The range in prices is from ¾ of a cent ₽ lb for loose lots from wagons, to 1½ cent in boxes. Choice varieties find a comparatively good market, but of most, there is a steady and adequate supply.

ONIONS—San Francisco advices have a repressing tendency on our market, and but few offers are made. We quote 1½@1¾ cents ₽ lb. Receipts very limited.

EGGS—The receipts have manifestly increased and prices are again breaking down. We notice large purchases at 35 cents ₽ dozen, and some offers to sell at that price are made by jobbers.

BUTTER—The supply of choice lots is short and still commands 35@40 cents ₽ lb. This, it must be remembered, is only for fancy print for table use, and good roll butter is plenty in the market at 30 cents ₽ lb less.

CHEESE—The supply for the past ten days has been small, and, with the usual home demand prices are firm for choice from our State dairies at 16@17c ₽ lb.

BACON—The market exhibits no great amount of activity, though quite a steady home demand exists. The California market, for Oregon cured is quite low down, and at current rates here but few shipments are likely to be made. We quote common lots at 10½@11½c ₽ lb for sides, 9@10c for Shoulders; [illegible] for Hams.

LARD—There is an active demand for fresh receipts of Oregon in tins at 12½@15c ₽ lb, and [illegible] in kegs.

POULTRY—We note considerable receipts of Chickens at $2 50@4 ₽ dozen; Turkeys are scarce, and selling at $15@21 ₽ dozen. Geese, $1 75@2 a pair.

BEEF CATTLE—We notice receipts of the lots of Cattle from the Valley, which sell readily at 3c ₽ lb. The [illegible] are [illegible]

MUTTON SHEEP—There is some inquiry for good lots at $2 50@3 ₽ head, the latter figure offered for choice only.

DRESSED HOGS—There has been some inquisition among buyers during the week, and receipts have been quite large. The range in prices has been [illegible] ₽ lb, at which we note a [illegible] market.

HIDES—There is [illegible] in the trade at present, our State tanneries being well supplied and no shipments of importance made probably advantageous by the foreign demand. Prices are [illegible] but nominally unchanged.

WOOL—We note but few transactions [illegible] firm at [illegible] ₽ lb, according to quality.

Boston Wool Market.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

BOSTON, Dec. 18.—The Wool market is [illegible] good demand from manufacturers and some speculative inquiry. Full prices continue to be obtained, and stocks of all kinds are moderate for the season, and with resumption of work by some mills, and prospect of a great revival of business, there will evidently be a scarcity of Wool before the season closes. The demand is chiefly for fine fleeces; California, 25@32c for fall; 25@36 for spring; pulled wools have been selling freely 40@55, including choice [illegible] superfines at outside prices.

San Francisco Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. Flour—Quiet; jobbing rates for extra, $6@7.

Wheat—1,000 sks shipping delivered at Oakland, $2 27½; 1,400 sks choice, do., $2 30; millers are compelled to pay $2 30@2 32½.

Barley—[illegible] sks coast feed, $[illegible]; [illegible] $1 60@1 65.

Oats—250 sks light to choice, $1 [illegible]; some very heavy descriptions are held higher.

Hay—From $14 to $19 ₽ ton; all [illegible] as are offering.

Potatoes—Sweet, $2 25; 78 sks Petaluma, 90c; average for all kinds, 80c@$1 25.

Shipping Intelligence.

The Ortelanume will leave St. Helens at 8 A. M. tomorrow with a fair cargo of freight, much of which is flour.

The [illegible] and [illegible] coming here to load wheat are reported as having crossed the bar to-day.

[illegible]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—Arrived—Alaska, [illegible] Bay.

Sailed—America, Valparaiso, and [illegible]; Liverpool; [illegible] Brown and Sophia D. Gassu, Cork; Samoset, Tacoma; Orient, Astoria.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

THIS BANK HAS ESTABLISHED IN CONNECTION with the general Banking business a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, and will allow Interest on Coin Deposits made in accordance with the conditions adopted by the Association.

In establishing a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, this Banking Association has in view the benefit to accrue to a class of persons having small sums to loan, by providing a safe place of deposit, ample security and fair rate of interest, as well as to aggregate and bring into use idle capital.

For the safety of deposits in this Bank are pledged its entire capital and resources, and also the personal liability of its Directors and Stockholders, as provided by Section 12 of the National Currency Act, approved June 3, 1864, a greater security than that given by ordinary Savings Banks. Printed copies of the conditions upon which deposits are received may be had upon application at the Bank.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing, and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and distorted faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, death-dealing maladies—that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without the use of any [illegible]. It is important to those who [illegible] and to those who are interested in the welfare of the patients, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz.: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and ratling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy5dp
